

TERRY HEALEY

SPEAKER AND AUTHOR

A survivor of a life-threatening cancer that left him with a permanent facial difference, Terry Healey is an author, keynote speaker, and business strategist. Healey challenges audiences to face their adversities and to apply his framework of four key principles to gain confidence, build resilience, and find joy in their personal and professional lives.

Having endured more than thirty surgical procedures to reconstruct his face while in his early twenties, Healey discovered tools that could help him transform his changed life. He shares ways to take control, overcome challenges, build trust and teams, embrace change, and learn the value of acceptance and tolerance. He views the lessons he learned as gifts, and believes his greatest reward is being able to teach others how to overcome any kind of adversity and celebrate life.

His experience led him to a thirty-five-year successful career as a high-tech sales and marketing executive, including being on the founding team of a company that had a successful Initial Public Offering. His popular programs are presented to healthcare organizations, corporations, educational institutions, associations, and non-profits nationwide. They include Cisco Systems, Inc., Charles Schwab, The University of California Berkeley Football Team, Santa Clara University, Ligand Pharmaceuticals, Genomic Health, Perkin Elmer, Stanford University, UC San Francisco, Kaiser Permanente, Northwestern Memorial Hospital, Greater Baltimore Medical Center, Lawrence Livermore National Laboratory, and many others.

A graduate of UC Berkeley, Healey is the author of At Face Value: My Triumph Over A Disfiguring Cancer, and is a contributing author to Open My Eyes, Open My Soul: Celebrating Our Common Humanity, Make Your Own Miracle: Surviving Cancer, an Anthology, and Reading Lips and Other Ways to Overcome a Disability.

His work has appeared in the following publications: Psychology Today, Metro UK, The San Francisco Chronicle, Guideposts, NurseWeek, U.S. News and World Report, Sales and Marketing Magazine, Coping and CURE Today. He has appeared on dozens of national and local TV networks and has been interviewed on more than seventy-five radio stations across the U.S. and Canada. Navigating Life's Roadblocks and Building Resilience: Attitude, Focus and Teamwork

Terry takes you through his harrowing personal ordeal and what enabled him to focus on the positive aspects of his life that weren't only lessons he learned, but gifts that he could impart to others struggling with their own challenges. Terry conveys the importance of taking note of 'potential' turning points in life and how to ensure that you create your own personal survival kit that will help you with career challenges, personal discovery, or physical challenges that may change the way you interact with others.

Frameworks to Overcome Adversity and Rebuild Confidence

Terry shares survival techniques from his life-threatening battle with an aggressive form of cancer that left him with a permanent facial difference at age twenty-one and how he found a way to harness daily inspirations and transform them into four guiding principles that became a framework for facing adversity and building a more fulfilling life.

Dealing With Adversity and Taking Control of Your Life

Based on Terry's extreme experience with adversity in his own life, Terry shares with us the lessons he learned about how to deal with adversity and how being focused and taking control of your life are the keys to making those difficulties not only tolerable but also valuable in our personal growth and development. Terry encourages the audience to confront things head on and to embrace, rather than fear our world that is constantly changing.

Workplace Sensitivity: Approaches to Celebrating Visible Differences

Based on personal experience, Terry shares how organizations can create ways to celebrate people with facial differences. Terry discusses methods to embrace those with visible differences, celebrating them for the value they can bring to the workplace, and ultimately help to differentiate your organization for an improved public image and a recruitment and retention advantage in the market.

Customer Testimonials:

"Terry spoke on the afternoon of a two-day meeting and fully captivated the room. He is a very authentic and engaging speaker. Terry brought us along in his journey. Other than his voice – you could hear a pin drop. To say Terry's story is inspirational is an understatement. What I got out of his session is that we all have that inner strength – we just need to tap into it and have the support of our friends, families and colleagues. Terry also provided his tool kit of what helped him not only survive but thrive. That tool kit is applicable to people's personal and professional lives – as it centers on trust & teamwork, focus, positive thinking, balance and visualization. His session balanced out an intense meeting and provided a perspective that will help teams focus on what is important. I highly recommend bringing Terry into speak at a professional or faith-based meeting." Christine Pratt, Senior Manager, Marketing, Cisco Systems, Inc.

"I saw Terry speak at an event in Bend, Oregon about 6 months ago and I knew he would be the perfect speaker for our annual dealer lunch in Burlingame, CA. Terry and I have known each other for many years, and I was truly inspired listening to his first-hand experience of battling cancer throughout his life. Terry's story touched each of us at our luncheon for various reasons. The most common theme was that anything is achievable no matter what the adverse conditions are. Terry's onstage presence was humbling for everyone in the audience. We look forward to having him back in the future." Grant Riggs, President & CEO, Riggs Distributing.

"Terry's story is inspiring for anyone facing a life challenge. His honesty and vulnerability in relating his experience is something that everyone can connect to regardless of whether they are a cancer patient or not. Terry does an incredible job of telling his story in a personable, insightful and moving way, providing lessons that all of us can learn from. I wasn't surprised to find my inbox full of positive messages from our audience the following morning, including some stating it was the most inspirational talk they had ever heard." Rob Tufel, Chief Executive Officer, Cancer Support Community, San Francisco Bay Area.

"Terry delivered an inspiring message during the 25th Year End Celebration of the Heartland Study Club. His presentation was uplifting and encouraging to all the healthcare providers in the room. From a healthcare provider perspective, Terry's experience was extraordinary. He has been through extensive challenges and has come through them all amazingly. The courage which Terry displayed during his healthcare challenges, as well as his willingness to share them with others, is truly inspirational." Michael J. Noffze, DDS, MD, Director of Heartland Study Club.

"Terry's message is a powerful reminder that one can grow through adversity. He presents a challenge to the listener that is compelling, and if embraced, has the potential to be life changing. Thank you, Terry, for sharing your journey in such a profound manner, our team left both inspired and empowered to own the change they desire." Kimberly Popovits, Chairman of the Board, Chief Executive Officer & President, Genomic Health, Inc.

"Every company in every industry is faced with adversity at one point of time or another. Terry delivers such an inspirational message to help lead during those times through the messaging of teamwork, focus and positive thinking. I can't recommend a more insightful speaker who makes you see the bigger picture to get through any challenge. Terry inspired the entire room to wanting to do better with their lives, as he has done. Well done, Terry!" Molly Lewis, Senior Regional Manager, Genomic Health, Inc.

"I spent years in locker rooms with Bill Walsh, Joe Montana, and Ronnie Lott, and I have never heard something so inspirational as your story." Dwight Clark, San Francisco 49ers.

"As a cancer program administrator, I found Terry Healey's testimonial of his journey with cancer absolutely inspiring. Terry serves as a great example of how someone can turn a devastating event such as dealing with a disfiguring cancer into a story of resilience and survivorship. He is to be commended for his courage and willingness to serve as a beacon of hope and inspiration to those not only facing cancer but any major adversity in life. Thank you, Terry!" Brenda Carlson, Executive Director of Oncology, John Muir Health.

"Thank you for speaking at our 19th Annual American Cancer Society Golden Gate Invitational. Our guests were visibly moved by your courageous personal story. Thank you for sharing and being such an inspiration to us all!" Golden Gate Invitational Council, American Cancer Society.

"Terry spoke at our recent departmental offsite. His inspirational message coupled with his unassuming and approachable style helped set the tone for what ended up being a positive, collaborative and successful session. Terry's personal story of triumph over adversity is extremely relevant to all of us who struggle to achieve a healthy balance in both our personal and professional lives." Fred Kaynor, Vice President, Marketing & Business Development, Schwab Charitable.

"Thank you, Terry! What an inspirational speech and a great way to kick off a very productive day for our team! We really appreciate the time you spent, and the valuable insights - and look forward to keeping the connection going." Kim Loughton, President, Schwab Charitable.

"On October 24, 2012, we were privileged to have Terry Healey keynote our Revolutionaries for Global Health Summit in San Francisco. As a cancer survivor, his talk drove home PerkinElmer's mission of eradicating cancer. Everyone in attendance was riveted by his survival story – it was wonderful to see his story inspire the doctors, government officials, investors, scientists, and researchers to work harder in the global battle against cancer. It brought PerkinElmer's applications & technologies, the science, and patients' struggles together to show the big picture of what can be done to eradicate this disease. Seeing how Terry's talk first-handedly motivated such a large group of diverse people to come together as a global health revolutionaries' movement against cancer/disease was a once in a lifetime experience!" Kevin Hrusovsky, President, Life Sciences & Technology, PerkinElmer.
